Sunday School Lesson

Gideon, Samson Appointed To Free Israel

By Newman Campbell
THE LESSON today relates the story of two strong men who were chosen by the Lord to free their people from the Midianites and Philistines. We shall see who was the stronger, although both succeeded in their aims.

"And the children of Israel did evil in the sight of the Lord: and the Lord delivered them into hand of Midian seven years."—Judges 6:1. In dire distress the Israelites turned to the Lord to deliver them. The Midianites "encamped against them, and destroyed the increase of the earth, till thou came unto Gaza, and left no sustenance for Israel, neither sheep, nor ox, nor ass."—Judges 6:4.

Gideon, son of Joash, "threshed wheat by the winepress, to hide it from the Midianites," when an angel of the Lord appeared to him, saying "The Lord is with thee, thou mighty man of valour, . . . Go in thy might, and thou shalt save Israel from the hand of the Midianites: have not I sent thee?"—Judges 6:11-14.

We have not space enough to go into all the details, but Gideon at first told the angel that he was only a humble man and not fitted for this herculean task. However, after he was convinced that the being who visited him was really a messenger from the Lord, he consented.

That night he broke down the altar to Baal. When he was accused, he said that if Baal was really a god he could save himself.

Under the guidance of the Lord Gideon chose only 300 men to go with him into battle. In the night, with the Midianites asleep in the valley,

"Gideon divided the 300 men into three companies, and he put a trumpet in every man's hand, with empty pitchers, and lamps within the pitchers. And he said unto them, Look on me, and do likewise; and behold, when I come to the outside of the camp, it shall be that, as I do, so shall ye do. When I blow with a trumpet, I and all that are with me, then blow ye the trumpet also on every side of all the camp, and say, The sword of the Lord, and of Gideon."—Judges 7:16-18.

So the men did as directed and the Midianites, thinking they were surrounded by a mighty force, fled in terror and were pursued and slain.

After his triumph over the enemy, the people begged Gideon to rule over them and his sons after him, but he refused.

The other strong man's mother was told by an angel of the Lord that she would bear a son and his name should be Samson. She was to drink no wine nor strong drink. The Lord was with him, and as he grew to manhood he became very strong, and slew many Philistines.

In revenge the Philistines bound him with strong ropes. Then the spirit of the Lord came upon him and "the cords that were upon his arms became as flax that was burnt with fire, and his bands loosed from off his hands. And he found a new jawbone of an ass, and put forth his hand, and took it, and slew a thousand men therewith."—Judges 15:14-15.

But, alas! in Gaza—the southernmost city on Palestine's coast on the border of Egypt, in the Gaza Strip which has been the object of much conflict and bloodshed during recent years—he was enticed by a wicked woman, Delilah. She persuaded him to tell her the secret of his strength, which was his hair. While he slept with his head on the woman's lap, she ordered a man to cut off his hair, and when he awoke, his strength had left him.

The Philistines then put out his eyes and made him labor at the most menial tasks. However, he had his revenge when his strength returned. At a time when the Philistines were to offer a sacrifice to their god, Dagon, they called for Samson to torment him. Praying for a last return of his strength he pulled two pillars from under the roof of the building, and its occupants and Samson himself were all killed.

Which was truly the stronger man?

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Strange word . . . FRESH!

Once it meant 'young . . . unspoiled . . . without blemish. But American slang has made it the tag of the impudent, the forward, the ruthlessly aggressive youth. What does this change in a word mean? Do we distrust the young? Do we resent boys and girls today? On the contrary, it reflects our clearer understanding of our task as parents. For we have given youth greater freedom. But we have understood that this freedom demands careful guidance, particularly in the moral and spiritual realms. We dislike the fresh child. He is the evidence of somebody's failure to provide the essential guidance. So modern America is turning with fervor and confidence to its churches. They provide the religious training that tempers youthful freshness with respect, reverence and faith.

Commissioners Seek New Quarters For Education Office

Two Houses Now Under Consideration

NEW quarters for County Superintendent John C. Litts and his staff are now being sought.

The move is made necessary by the coming tax equalization system. County Commissioners plan to house Chief Assessor George Brands, his staff and assessment equipment in the building now occupied by school offices in Court House Square. Commissioners this week recommended a private home on Scott St. as a site for the education offices.

Last week Litts, Walter Sebring, his assistant, and Commissioners looked over two houses. One was on N. Fifth St. The second was the Scott St. property.

Sebring said after the group had examined the two properties that he and Litts favored the N. Fifth St. property.

Little Renovation

Commissioners said they believe the Scott St. property will be a better location, however, because it would require little or no renovation in changing it into an office building.

John R. Lesoine, Commission chairman, said that the property is also much more adaptable so far as needed parking facilities are concerned.

Lesoine said last night that Litts told him the County School Board "must give its approval to any property" before it is purchased for use as the County school office.

In accordance with State laws, the County Commissioners are required to provide housing for the County superintendent of schools and his staff. This provision is contained in Section 1039 of school law.

Lesoine said County Solicitor L. A. Achterman has asked Litts to point out where the school code requires approval of the County School Board for office space provided for the superintendent.

Lesoine said that he had asked Litts to arrange for county board members to attend next Thursday's regular meeting of Commissioners.

Engineers Extend Depot Runway

TOBYHANNA—Reserve unit construction Battalion, located at the Depot, this is the latest in a series of important construction works the company has undertaken in the community.

The unit was activated at the Signal Depot on Oct. 12, 1956 under general order 263 from Headquarters, Second U. S. Army. Capt. Francis R. Regan assumed command on March 1, 1957 and is still in command of the unit.

Unit Training

The company held its first annual unit training at Indiantown Gap Military Reservation near Anyville from July 12-28, 1957. During that first training period, the unit was given a primary mission of constructing a foot bridge and a shale-based road.

Back home, the company had a chance to prove its colors during the emergency created by severe snowstorms this past winter. During February and March of this year, Capt. Regan and a force of 15 men, using Army equipment, worked day and night with local highway crews clearing snow in the Mount Pocono area, according to M/Sgt. E. J. Fey, construction supervisor.

Much of the unit's community service is done as a part of its regular weekend drill assignment.

One of the first multiple drill weekend periods was used to begin construction of a Little League field in Mount Pocono. Subsequently another field was begun in Tobyhanna.

Capt. Regan said last night that the company is in need of new enlisted men at all times.

"We prefer men who have had prior service, if possible," the commanding officer said. "Our unit offers excellent chances for training in engineering work and we welcome men with service in any branch of the Armed Forces."

Regular Meetings

"The unit meets regularly on Tuesday nights. In addition to this we have work drills on weekends on an average of once each month," Regan said.

Men interested in joining the unit may contact either Capt. Regan at Mount Pocono 6897 or M/Sgt. Fey at Mount Pocono 3847.

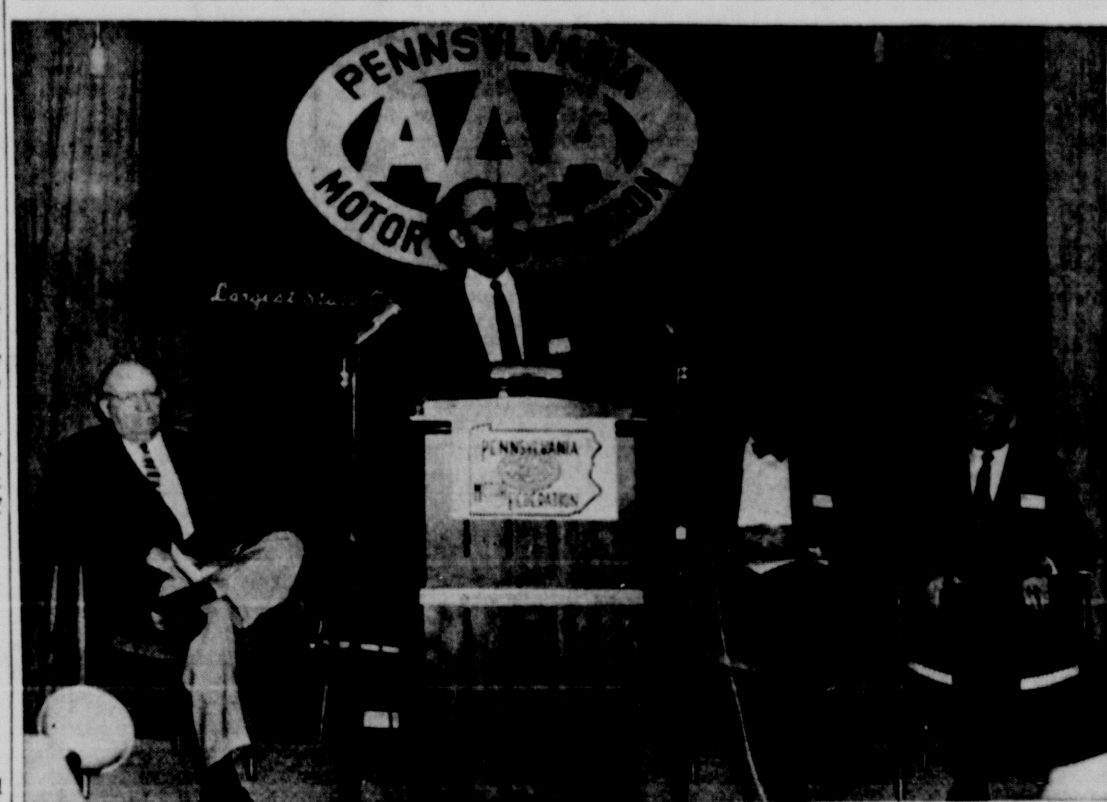

In the work now being done at the Signal Depot, the company is surveying, earth-filling and rough grading an extension to the landing strip which will require about 97,000 yards of fill.

Final work on the strip will be done by the Signal Depot.

Capt. Regan said last night that the unit's next major project will be assisting the Community Council at Gouldsboro in the laying out and construction of a picnic ground and recreation area in the borough.

Major General Louis W. Prentiss, USA (Ret.) told the federation "We cannot afford to go before Congress next year with other than a good record of accomplishment. We, the people, must remove the road blocks and get the money under contract."

General Prentiss said legislation at the next session of Congress is virtually needed if the great road building program is not to bog down. He called for legislation to repeal the Byrd "pay-as-you-go" amendment to the 1956 Federal-Aid Highway Act, and to protect the money in the Highway Trust Fund from being diverted to other uses.

Pennsylvania Motor Federation Reveals Stand On Radar To Control Traffic Speed

POCONO MANOR—Pennsylvania Motor Federation officials yesterday revealed the federation's stand on the use of radar for speed control on Pennsylvania's highways, and called for increased political activity among members as a matter of good citizenship, and of advancing helpful legislation.

Predicting that legislation to permit use of radar in arrests for speeding would be a major issue in the 1959 session of the Legislature, Charles E. Pugh, PMF Secretary-Manager, told the federation's annual convention here today that at least five controls should surround any official use of radar.

"If radar, or other speed detection devices are legalized," Pugh said, "they should be operated only if the following conditions are observed: The Highway Department must first survey and correct speed limits and speed zones and then maintain them; operation must be limited to the State Police, and only specially trained men be authorized to operate the devices; warning signs must be placed 750 to 1,500 feet ahead of any point where radar is being used, and intensive and continued checks be maintained upon its accuracy of operation."

In his annual report to the membership, Pugh urged members to solicit the support of local Legislators for measures to control billboards on main highways. "PMF-AAA will support a bill for this purpose," he said. He outlined the Federation's safety activities, and noted that a major project in the coming year will be greater attention to pedestrian traffic planning.

In another address yesterday, the executive vice president of the American Road Builders Assn., called upon motorists to cooperate with state agencies in accelerating road construction under the National Highway Program.

Major General Louis W. Prentiss, USA (Ret.) told the federation "We cannot afford to go before Congress next year with other than a good record of accomplishment. We, the people, must remove the road blocks and get the money under contract."

General Prentiss said legislation at the next session of Congress is virtually needed if the great road building program is not to bog down. He called for legislation to repeal the Byrd "pay-as-you-go" amendment to the 1956 Federal-Aid Highway Act, and to protect the money in the Highway Trust Fund from being diverted to other uses.

Speed Check Held On Route 611

STATE Bureau of Highway Safety personnel in cooperation with James McConnell, Stroudsburg Police Chief, made a spot radar survey just north of Stroudsburg yesterday.

Samuel P. Perrone, safety engineer, and Ed. Widdick, radar engineer for the Bureau, conducted the survey.

A radar instrument was set up on Route 611, south-bound, to check the speed of each vehicle in the traffic pattern.

Widdick reported that it was found that 30 per cent of the passenger cars checked with in violation of the 35 mile-an-hour speed limit, with a top speed of 50 miles per hour recorded.

Fifty per cent of the trucks passing the check point were in excess of the speed limit, with the highest speed for a commercial vehicle recorded at 42 miles per hour.

No Arrests

The safety engineer emphasized that no arrests were made as a result of the survey.

"Similar studies in other communities in which radar surveys have been made in the Commonwealth show that a majority of the operators of all vehicles exceed the speed limits," Widdick said.

Perrone is a representative of the Governor's Traffic Safety Council which recommended legalization of radar in Pennsylvania for use in the detection of speed violations at the 1957 sessions of the General Assembly. The proposal died in the Senate Highways Committee after receiving approval in the House.

Monroe County Population Figure Rises To 40,000

(Record Harrisburg Bureau)

HARRISBURG—An upswing of 18.4 per cent in the population on Monroe County during the seven-year period from 1950 through 1957 has been recorded by the State Department of Health.

The population increase in the county is in line with a similar upswing noted throughout the state as a whole where the population total during the period climbed from 10,498,012 recorded during the official U.S. Census of 1950 to the department estimate of 11,666,000 for 1957.

Figures

For Monroe County, the climb was from 33,773 in 1950 to 40,000 last year, an increase in population within the county itself of 6,227, according to the department.

It was noted that while the county population increased 18.4 per cent during the period, the increase for the state as a whole stood at 6.4 per cent.

The group inspected and approved final construction payment on a bridge across Paradise Creek in Paradise Township at Rinaldi's and the Price Bridge over Brodheads Creek located opposite the Snow Hill fire tower road in Barrett Township.

Couple 'Hurried' Into Contract Granted Appeal Of Court Award

In an opinion handed down yesterday, the Lehigh County Court ordered an aluminum storm window company in Allentown to open a judgment placed on the property of a couple who entered into a contract too hastily.

The case involves, the court opinion reads, high-powered salesmanship which admittedly is one of the "techniques" of the business.

As a result of the court's opinion, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph J. Binder, of 2 N. 6th St., Coplay, eventually will have their day in court to decide the justice of the judgment against their property.

"High-Powered" Action "This case," the court's opinion begins, "presents the familiar situation of a high powered salesman inducing an unconvincing customer to sign up without deliberation so that he (the salesman) can 'win the contest closing that day.'"

The story as related in the court's opinion is as follows: On Saturday, July 16, 1955, a salesman for the R. G. Hill Co. Inc., with Allentown offices at 224 N. 9th St., induced the Binders to sign a contract and a "blank note" for certain aluminum storm windows.

"The salesman assured them," the opinion reads, "they would have a week's time in which to decide whether to go through with the deal."

On Monday, July 18, 1955, he turned in the contract and note to his manager. At about 11 a. m. that same day, Mrs. Binder telephoned the manager that she had been laid off and they would have to cancel the contract, but that they might continue to purchase a part of the order.

Statement Challenged She was informed, the opinion goes on, that it was too late, because the order had already gone to the manufacturer. "This statement was untrue," the court declares, "because the court is convinced that the Hill company never made any effort whatsoever to mitigate the damages it claims it suffered through failure of the Binders to go through with the contract."

"We realize," the opinion reads, "that one of the techniques of this business is to speed implementation of orders to make cancellation prohibitive. We doubt however, that the windows are custom-made in the sense that they are manufactured for a specific order only upon receipt of such order."

Just Between Us — — —
—By Bobby Westbrook

The towns were certainly seething and boiling with activity yesterday: the weekend tourists arriving, the firemen here in full force, street vendors selling balloons and souvenirs, a miniature model train chugging up and down the streets, the Bible School students graduating, the 4-H Club members training, and the Friday shoppers, all mixed up together and stirred well.

It was good training for today, I suppose, which is likely to be even more frantic. All in all, it has been a week to remember but not necessarily to repeat—at least before the Fourth of July.

But the amazing thing is that, always in the whirlpool of excitement that builds up around any big project like the Firemen's Convention, there are many quiet eddies where people are going about their own affairs almost unaware of its force.

For the firemen and their ladies, for the storekeepers, the hotel and restaurant workers, the police and the community in general it sets the pace for all their activities.

But once you get off the main streets, you step into the peaceful shallows where nothing is hurried. The wash is hanging on the lines, the housewives are starting to cut the grass before it rains again. The children are clustered around the hokey-pokey wagon for pop-sicles.

The trouble is that after you've been fighting the full force of the current in the midst of all the excitement, it's had not to keep right on swimming for your life when all you have to do is float.

4-H Officers, 80 Stroug, In Training

Some 80 4-H Club members representing 15 4-H Clubs of the county met last night at the YMCA for an officers' training session under the direction of Robert Stauffer, assistant county agricultural agent.

Individual workshops were held with the group re-assembling to hold a model meeting demonstrating what they had learned in their group meetings. Connie Villa served as president and Barbara Wieboldt as secretary-treasurer at the mock meeting.

Mary Beth Wieboldt led a game "Let's Go Lion Hunting" which involved rhymes and action. Kathy Dennis served as news reporter.

John Wilson, secretary of the YMCA, conducted the training session for presidents and vice presidents; Mrs. Norman Dennis for secretary-treasurer; John Bischoff of Penn State University the planning session for song and game leaders; Mrs. Horace Westbrock, of the Daily Record, who talked to news reporters of the 4-H Clubs.

Miss Margaret MacLaren, county home economics advisor, was unable to be present since she was called to her home by the death of her father.

Following the model meeting, soda and pretzels were served. Warm-up games before the workshops got them off to a good start.

BPWC Give Third $1000, Get Award At Installation

Climax of the Business and Professional Women's Club meeting on Thursday night at the Penn-Stroud Hotel was the presentation of a check for $1,000 for the Monroe County Home for the Aged.

Thomas Kistler, representing the home Assn., accepted the check, the third of that amount given by the BPWC. It was the club's original gift of $1,000 which started the association.

Kistler discussed the home on West Main Street recently purchased by the association, and thanked the club for their cooperation, enthusiasm and interest.

A second high point of the meeting was the presentation of a citation to the club for their Mother's March on Polio this year. Richard Fredenberg, chairman of the polio drive, made the presentation.

In the one-hour drive this year, the club collected more than half the amount contributed to the Polio Fund in the county. A standing ovation was given Harry Clark who was chosen one of the top ten of the nation's "most typical contributor to the March of Dimes".

At the meeting the club honored its presidents, who were seated in a place of honor and presented with a gift: Mrs. Anne George, current president; past presidents, Hilda LaBar, Elizabeth Kane, Anna Courtright, Dr. Nina Mae Price, Bernice All, Lulu Harvey, and Roberta Evans, who also received an award for being a continuing charter member for 34 years.

Grace Jesse, district chairman of District 8, congratulated the local club on their achievements and awards and spoke of the work of the Ground Observer Corps.

Dorothy Storms, vice president, reported on the convention held in Reading in May when the district took many honors. Officers installed by Grace Jesse were: Anna George, president; Dorothy Storms, first vice president; Claire Webster, second vice president; Edna Brockman, corresponding secretary; Louise Catalano, treasurer; Lydia Stanton, past district chairman, assisted with the installation.

The program featured Joseph Small who showed slides and told the story of his recent trip to Bermuda.

No Sirens For The Ladies, But Acme Hose Aux. Works Behind Scenes For Parade

The volunteer firemen's ladies do a lot of volunteer work, too, and without any of the excitement that enlivens a fireman's lot. Firemen go to fires with the sirens screaming and the lights blinking, the heroes of all the little boys along the way. The firemen's auxiliary members turn up quietly with sandwiches and hot coffee for the fire fighters.

The men keep their fire fighting equipment in first class condition with brass gleaming and hoses rolled just so. The auxiliary members spend innumerable hours in the firehouse kitchen preparing the meals to raise the money for the firehouse and the equipment.

This week the members of the Acme Hose Co. Auxiliary, East Stroudsburg, are busy, too, but without bands, flags or fanfare. Yesterday morning at 9 a.m. some 40 of them met at the Grace Lutheran Church kitchen and dining room to make 6,000 sandwiches to serve the marchers after the parade this afternoon at the fireman's field.

That's a lot of sandwiches — it took 535 loaves of bread, pounds and pounds of cheese, ham and pressed ham and flying fingers to finish up the job by 1:30 yesterday afternoon. Each sandwich was placed in its own wax paper bag, and placed in big boxes to be distributed without charge this afternoon to the hungry marchers.

The Acme Hose Aux. is also planning to serve lunch at the firehouse this afternoon to the state police and the fire police who will be on hand to help with the parade. Since they will be so busy with their duties and the town will be so crowded, the auxiliary is going to make sure that they don't go hungry.

Also to be the guests of the auxiliary at the firehouse for lunch will be the Fireman's

I awoke with a start to a terrible feeling of despondency. The Tamiment fashion show that I had been living, breathing and talking for weeks was over... and no one had been there but Shorty Widmer, his Marion, my ever-loyal pal Blanche Mackey, and myself. Even the committee had failed to appear... and when I'd been summoned on stage by an unseen voice, I walked to a stairway, only to discover it had become a chute that plunged into a dungeon of darkness.

I groaned... and turned my head to bury it deep in my pillow. A bobby pin pricked my temple. My hand flew up and found my entire head covered with pins. Instantly I was on my feet, feeling jubilant. The show WASN'T over—it hadn't been a flop. That dizzy downward plunge into the dark was only a nightmare. THIS was the day of the show. I flew to the window to see what the weather man had prescribed... and to the telephone to ask Holt Wyckoff for some assistance with the typing I hadn't been able to finish before going to bed at 1:30. There were a million things to do... and everything, I prayed with crossed fingers, was going to be alright.

When I arrived at Tamiment along with Edith Jacobson, her husband, Blannie, Mrs. Phillipsberg, and her guest, Mrs. Goldman, there was still no way of knowing how large the attendance would be. But everything was shaping up beautifully. Lou Metz was there, busy with lights, microphone and platforms... ticket sellers were at the entrance... the models were flitting between dressing room and makeup room, where Marcia Clapp and Pearl Walters were occupied with powdering noses and shadowing eyes. "This reminds me of Little Theatre," Missy Wyckoff remarked, as Marcia pencilled a line just above her lashes.

At dinner, Bobby Westbrook entertained us with a discourse on pigs as pets... Jere Rubin and Dave Robins admitted they'd be very glad when the show was over and their attractive wives would talk about something besides fashions... and "Ginger" Ale, the evening's vocalist, expressed regret that his albums—intended as door prizes—were still on my desk at Wyckoff's since no one had told him I wasn't going to be in to pick them up.

Uptairs there was excitement, when word arrived that one of our finest models, Gloria Bryson, was out of the picture and her gowns must be fitted to other girls. Downstairs there was the last minute need to improvise another small stage because the commentator (in this case myself) wanted to be able to see her audience and study its reactions.

At last I was zipped into my dress, Phyllis Rubin had extended her welcome to somewhere between 400 and 500 guests, and our models were parading gracefully down the runway looking as glamorous as Miss America herself. I discovered several things—one, that I could leaf my cards just as easily wearing gloves as bare-handed, and two, I did not feel a bit foolish wearing one green and one yellow glove even though I had been horrified when this fashion whim was first prescribed for me.

Looking back there are many little things I remember. The remark of Mrs. Max Fleischmann's child: "If Ginger Ale is going to sing, what will Coca Cola do?" (Ginger will love this!) and Irving Sommers' moan: "I come to a fashion show to see a pretty girl in a bathing suit, and who's the model? MY WIFE!" I remember the lights gleaming on Rita Katz's red hair... the glint of the golden embroidery on the lounging ensemble from Israel... the brilliant, sparkling burgundy of Charlotte LaBar's taffeta sheath with matching satin evening coat... the fresh, young, budget-priced crispness of our wonderful Wyckoff sports-wear... and Pete Wyckoff's, "Good show—too bad you couldn't find your other glove." But most of all I remember the friendliness of people—the girls from Easton who introduced themselves... the men who were frank in their praise of the show... the girls on the committee who presented me with the handsome gold evening carryall engraved by Shorty Widmer.

After the show I rolled and tossed the hours away, unable to sleep... it wasn't until morning that I began sobbing, and finally dozed off. I am sure I was not crying so much from nerves or fatigue as from gratitude. When people are NICE they're really nice, aren't they?—and I know so many of them!

Kramer Looks To London In Search For Net Talent

By WILL GRIMSLEY
NEW YORK (AP) — Promoter Jack Kramer heads for London Sunday night with a satchful of Yankee dollars aimed at buying new talent for his professional tennis troupe.

Object of his search will be such amateur players as Sven Davidson of Sweden, Kurt Nielsen of Denmark, Budge Patty of Paris and Jaroslav Drobny of Egypt.

HE also may make overtures to Althea Gibson and Britain's sensational 17-year-old Christine Truman, who whipped Althea in the recent Wightman Cup match.

Ladies Tough
"The ladies give me a hard time but these two girls could make a lot of money playing tennis now if they were of a mind," the Los Angeles tennis capitalist said Friday.

HARRY FREEDMAN, the gentleman across the Delaware in New Jersey who can't keep his hands out of boxing no matter how hard he tries, is all but ready to put on amateur shows this summer at his ideal retreat.

Freedman, who has done about everything in the fight game, got full information from George R. Hoagland, secretary-treasurer of the New Jersey Association, an affiliate of the Amateur Athletic Union of the United States.

All Harry has to do now is get official approval from the AAU and the okay of the New Jersey State Boxing Commissioner, Joe Walker, brother of the famed toy bulldog, Mickey Walker.

The actual cost of putting on an amateur show, excluding prizes for the boxers and other incidentals, is $125. This amount involves fees for a referee, clerk of show, two judges and a timer. Part of the $125 goes into the Athletic Development Fund of the New Jersey AAU.

Actually the $125 is a small amount of what it will cost Freedman over-all if the plan goes through. Harry's idea is to get 10 to 12 boys, mostly from this area and work them in competition until some reveal potential for the professional ring.

Freedman will bed, house and feed the better-looking prospects and keep them in training under the capable supervision of Steve Kukla, a former professional boxer who is an employee of Harry's.

In the next two weeks, Freedman will host sportswriters in the area and submit his full project for their approval or disapproval.

Harry Obitz will be among eight of the country's leading golf professionals which will put on a clinic at the Saucon Valley Country Club Sunday.

Joining the Shawnee Country's head professional will be Skee Reigel, former U. S. Amateur king; Willie Palumbo, ex-Philadelphia Open champ; John Serafini, '58 Los Angeles Open winner; Stan Dudas, '58 Jamaica Open victor; Ellsworth Vines, the extenuis great who took to golf like a duck to water; and Teri Johnson, quarter finalist in the National PGA of 1956.

Obitz, a champ in his own right when he won the San Francisco Open, will tutor the onlookers on the eight and nine irons.

Harold Storm, Glen Brook Country Club's champion, finished second in the Champion of Champions Lehigh Valley Golf Association's golf tournament.

Storm who held a six-stroke lead after a sensational 72 at Glen Brook Sunday dropped to an 82 in the final round of the tournament at the Berlegh Country Club, near Reading Tuesday. Chuck Mehl who had a two-over-par 74 in the final round sneaked ahead of Storm to cop the Ella H. Hecklin memorial trophy. Mehl's two-round total was 152, while Storm ended up with 154.

This is the second straight year Storm finished as runner-up in the LV's big one. Last year Norm Staas, then of Harkers Hollow, just topped the Glen Brook stroke specialist.

Paul Lloyd, president of the East Stroudsburg Little League reported that yesterday's first day of the loop's Tag Days was successful to the tune of more than $200.

The drive for funds will close today. Players needing more tags are requested to contact Lloyd at his store. He also urged that all containers be handed in by 4 p.m. today.

Low Sommers and John Erickson, of Glen Brook Country Club, are entered in the 12th annual John A. Allen Invitation Golf Tournament at Fox Hill CC, Friday, Saturday and Sunday (June 27-28-29).

The classic of the Luzerne County links is a better-ball of partners event.

Bucco Rookie Tops Dodgers

PITTSBURGH (AP) — George Witt, recalled by the Pittsburgh Pirates from Columbus last Sunday, stopped the Los Angeles Dodgers, 2-1, Friday night on six hits for his first major league victory.

The 24-year-old right-hander retired the first 13 batters with the help of a pickoff play on an attempted steal before Norman Larker singled to left in the fifth. That apparently rattled the rookie hurler for Don Zimmer and Dick Gray followed with singles to send Larker across with a Dodger run, but he got the next two batters on strikeouts.

Witt, who posted an 18-7 mark with Hollywood last year, struck out eight and walked two. He started the season with the Pirates and was optioned to Columbus on a 24-hour recall on May 29.

Penn Choice To End Jinx In Regatta

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP) — Pennsylvania's high - stroking Quakers Friday were favored slightly to end a long-standing jinx and win the Intercollegiate Rowing Assn. championship on Onondaga Lake Saturday.

Penn last won this race in 1900. The Quakers are rated a shade better than Syracuse, a non-winner since 1920, and Cornell, which hasn't won a race all spring.

Princeton's tall, husky eight, California's young dark horses, and Navy's improving boatload also figured to be contenders in the most wide open battle for the varsity challenge cup in seven years.

Round Out Entries
Dartmouth, Wisconsin, Columbia and Massachusetts Institute of Technology round out the field of 10 for the three-mile classic.

Penn has been established the favorite for the nine crew junior varsity three-mile and joint choices with Cornell for the nine crew freshman two-mile. If the Quaker crews live up to expectations, Penn should romp off with the Jim Ten Eyck Team Trophy. The team competition is based on results of all three races.

Arc Racing At Nazareth Oval Sunday

STOCK CAR Racing, which hit a wild and woolly tempo last week, will come back this Sunday night, 8:15 p. m., at the Nazareth Fairgrounds. An added attraction will be—races by Lehigh Valley Quarter Midget Racing Club comprised of Boys and Girls—6 to 12 years of age.

Last week 39 modified-sportsman race cars took part in the bing-bang show, with Dick Tobias, Lebanon, Pa., soaring to his second 25-lap feature event win. The track champ, Otto Harvi, Easton, was shaken up and bruised, when his sizzling No. 1 racer upset on the backstretch.

This Sunday the cars will go for three 10-lap heats, a 12-lap consolation, and a 25-lap feature event. Special consideration in the purse is given to sportsman cars.

The track record for 10 laps is now 4 minutes, 51.3, set last week by Jim Metzler, Pottersville, N. J.

In the recent show, no less than eight racers were banged about in spectacular upsets and crashes during the rugged feature event. Some cars rammed the concrete walls, others went through the fences, and one soared completely off the track into the infield. No driver was seriously injured.

Taking part in the upcoming show will be cars and drivers from New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Maryland.

The names from those states are Dan Mitchell, Middletown, N. Y.; Sonny Strupp, New Jersey; Otto Harvi and Fred Fehr, Pennsylvania; and Ralph Smith, Maryland.

Mantle To Get
Final Treatment
DETROIT (AP) — Mickey Mantle went to a hospital Friday for a third and final X-ray treatment which physicians hope will end pain in the right shoulder of the New York Yankee outfielder.

Mantle took his first treatment in New York Monday and the second in Cleveland on Wednesday. Yankee spokesmen said doctors recommended Mantle take only three of the X-ray therapy treatments over a six-month period.

Mantle said the injury occurred in the third game of the 1957 World Series when Milwaukee set down heavily on him when Mantle slid into the base as pitcher Bob Buhl tried to pick him off.

John Austin Enlists In Navy

JOHN W. AUSTIN, 17½, has enlisted in the U.S. Navy. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Austin, 274 Normal St., East Stroudsburg.

He will leave Monday for Philadelphia for induction into the service. From the Philadelphia center he will depart for Great Lakes for boot camp.

Academic Course

Austin is a 1958 graduate of East Stroudsburg Area Senior High School, where he was a student in the academic course.

He enlisted in the Navy at the Easton Naval Recruiting Station on June 10. He is the first member of his graduating class to enter the Navy.

Green Trial Postponed Indefinitely

SCRANTON—A U. S. Justice Department request for the indefinite postponement of trials for Rep. William Green (D-Pa.) and six others accused of conspiracy to defraud the government has been granted.

The postponements were granted by District Judge John W. Murphy whom Green seeks to have replaced as the trial judge.

Oliver Dibble, special assistant to the U. S. attorney general, gave no reasons in making his request of Murphy. But he indicated it was prompted by a hearing July 7 in Philadelphia on Green's appeal to prevent Murphy from presiding at the trial.

Contention

Green contends, and Murphy denies, that Murphy "is personally prejudiced by reason of our long and close political and social relationships." As a result of this relationship, Green says, Judge Murphy "by reason of his desire to prove his integrity and lack of favoritism will be unable to afford me a fair and impartial trial."

The hearing, before the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals, was scheduled just eight days before Green's trial was to start.

Green, Philadelphia Democratic city chairman, and the others were indicted in connection with an alleged conspiracy to defraud the government during construction of the 33 million dollar Army Signal Corps depot at nearby Tobyhanna.

Dibble told the court Wednesday he planned to call 150 witnesses from all parts of the United States and foreign countries when the trial begins.

House Backs Public Works

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House voted more than a billion dollars for public works projects.

By a vote of 360-18 it passed and sent to the Senate a bill carrying $1,077,827,000, the bulk of which is to be used by Army Engineers and the reclamation bureau to plan, build and operate navigation, flood control, beach erosion, reclamation and power projects in the year starting July 1.

Approval of the bill came 24 hours after the House passed another bill which would authorize future construction of 1½ billion dollars in water projects.

Amendments withdrawn after points of order were made against them included one by Rep. Leon H. Gavin (R-Pa.) to add $80,000 planning funds for the St. Mary and Ridgeway flood control projects in Elk County, Pa.

Pittsburgh's Proposed Crosstown Project Out Of Present Federal Highway Picture

WASHINGTON—The proposed Crosstown Boulevard in Pittsburgh cannot be added to the interstate highway system now, according to Bertram D. Tallamy, federal highway administrator.

He told a delegation from Pittsburgh and Harrisburg that all but 350 miles of the interstate network has been allocated and the remainder must be held in reserve to take care of situations where designated routes turn out to require more mileage.

Lewis M. Stevens, Pennsylvania secretary of highways, argued that the two-mile link at the base of the Golden Triangle is not a "new interstate route" but rather a "correctional" addition to the Pittsburgh throughway complex and hence should be regarded as a part of the interstate system.

Stevens said after the conference that while Tallamy "refused to commit himself" to anything, the Pennsylvanians did not consider their journey fruitless and will make further efforts for the proposed Crosstown Boulevard.

He said that as time passed it may well be found that the 350 "reserve" miles may not be needed to take care of designated routes, and will be available for important needs such as Pittsburgh's.
